

[Paragon: The Overprime] Tournament Guide

The [Paragon: The Overprime] Tournament Guidelines (hereinafter referred to as "the Guidelines") are applied when a [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament is hosted and operated without a contract or partnership with us (Netmarble). Individuals or organizations (hereinafter referred to as "applicants" or "you") who wish to host and operate the contest must accurately understand and familiarize themselves with the contents of the Guidelines.

The Guidelines form part of our (Netmarble) Terms of Service and Netmarble F&C EULA. The applicant understands and agrees that any violation of the Guidelines may be deemed the same as a violation of Netmarble's Terms of Service and Netmarble F&C EULA.

[Obligation to Comply with the Terms and Conditions]

1. The tournament organized by you must comply with the laws of the host residential region or host region, and all responsibility for violating laws and regulations lies with you and the individuals or organizations related to the tournament's operation.
2. You must comply with the policies of the third party service (YouTube, Twitch, other streaming platforms) that you use to stream or broadcast your tournament.
3. If you comply with the Guidelines, the company will grant you a personal, non-exclusive, non-sublicensable, non-transferable, revocable limited license (tournament competition) to run the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament. However, in the event that our company (Netmarble) and Netmarble F&C EULA Guidelines are violated or deemed likely to be violated, we (Netmarble) reserve the right to take action and suspend the competition at any time. If you receive a request to stop the competition from Netmarble, you must immediately stop it and Netmarble will not be held liable.
4. You are obligated to inform your participants that [Paragon: The Overprime] tournaments are not officially supported or endorsed by us (Netmarble) when you organize or operate them on your own.

5. You must comply with the privacy laws of each country during the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament.
6. You must comply with the laws of each country related to the protection of publicity rights during the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament.
7. You must notify and obtain consent from all participants, spectators, related parties, etc. during the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament that we (Netmarble) have the right to use photos, videos, streaming broadcasts, and other content from the tournament. During the process of using this content, the personal information or right of publicity of participants, spectators, and other related parties may also be used.
8. During the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament, if you are found to be civilly or criminally liable to a third party due to a violation of a country's privacy laws, publicity rights, and/or protection laws, you must resolve it at your own risk and cost.

[Obligation to Comply with Partnership and Promotion]

1. During the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament, you must not display anything that can be mistaken for an official affiliated partnership or a partnership with us (Netmarble) or our related company (Netmarble F&C). Also, you must not promote tournaments or tournament websites using logos or trademarks, such as our name (Netmarble) or our affiliate (Netmarble F&C).
2. When promoting a tournament, you are permitted to use the game title [Paragon: The Overprime].
3. When you use the game title [Paragon: The Overprime] for your tournament, do not use language that implies that your event is an official competition such as an e-sports tournament, or use language that could be interpreted as a repeating event.
Examples of words to exclude:
 - Championship

- Champions
- Season
- Realm

[Restrictions on Commercial Activities]

1. You may not sell merchandise branded by us (Netmarble) or our affiliates (including but not limited to Netmarble F&C) or branded game merchandise.

[Compliance with Sponsors and Partnerships]

1. While operating and conducting [Paragon: The Overprime] tournaments, you must not receive sponsorship from companies that sell or promote the following products and services.

※ Notwithstanding our (Netmarble) Terms of Service, the organizer may receive sponsorships, except in the following cases.

- Other video games/other video game developers/other game publishers
- Other e-sports or other video game competitions and events that may be considered equivalent
- Video game consoles
- Sellers or marketplaces of goods or services that violate our (Netmarble) Terms of Service
- All alcoholic beverages, tobacco, cigarettes, or similar products
- Anything related to firearms, explosives, or weapons
- Gambling/betting/lottery products or services, including sports betting and daily fantasy sites or similar services, or gambling establishments and casinos
- Tattoo or body branding services
- Political advertisements or other related materials promoting a political agenda
- Illegal products or services or any content that violates applicable laws in your area
- Content that can be perceived as obscene/slandorous/misleading or inaccurate/discriminatory
- Pharmaceutical products or services, dietary supplements, or medical devices
- Foods and beverages that contain high fat/salt/or sugar
- Sellers or marketplaces of virtual goods known to be counterfeit or illegal

- Computer monitor, CPU, and graphics cards
- Cryptocurrency or unregulated financial products

"If you feel unsure about any of the above questions and categories, please obtain our (Netmarble) express written permission. We may amend the prohibited list of sponsors and partnerships. You are responsible for ensuring that the list of prohibited sponsors is updated or amended."

[Compliance with Streaming]

1. You can broadcast the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament you organized online in accordance with our (Netmarble) Guidelines, and you can use the appropriate online streaming platform (including but not limited to YouTube, Twitch, etc.).
2. You must not charge any type of fee to the viewers of your [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament in the process of broadcasting it online.
3. You are responsible for managing chats conducted by viewers while streaming the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament online, and you must strive to prevent chat content that is obscene, insulting, or discriminatory.
4. You must not allow TV or others to broadcast your [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament.
5. The [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament organized by you may require you to promote our (Netmarble) social media accounts and/or channels during the stream if we (Netmarble) help monetize your competition by promoting your competition, contributing to the total prize pool of the competition, or in another equivalent way.
6. You must not combine or allow a third party to combine the broadcasts of a [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament organized by you with other video games or video content.

[Compliance Regarding Prizes and Other Rewards]

1. You are obliged to confirm rewards, including prize money, prior to organizing a [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament and prior to the start date of the tournament. In addition, rewards, such as prize money, must not change based on the actions or contributions of participants or related parties for the tournament.

2. In order to participate in a [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament organized by you, you may charge a participant (team or player) an entry fee equal to or less than $20 USD. In the case of a claim, the value of the reward must be at least equal to the total value of the participation fee paid by the participant (team or player), and the collected amount is directly added to the total prize money of the competition or used only for the operating expenses for the competition, and cannot be used for personal use.
3. We (Netmarble) may provide certain non-cash rewards to participants or winners of tournaments. The applicant acknowledges and agrees that rewards may not always be paid for every tournament event and may be paid at the sole discretion of the company.

[Restrictions on Profits]

1. By the time you reach 12 months since the start of the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament, you must not exceed $10,000 USD as the sum of the revenue you earn from your sponsors and online broadcasting/streaming platforms while running the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament. This applies to the cumulative total of 12 months (1 year) from the date you start the tournament, not to each tournament you organize.
2. You can use crowdfunding to run the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament, but the entire amount raised can only be added directly to the total prize pool of the tournament or used only for expenses for operating the tournament. Personal use unrelated to the tournament is not permitted.

[Our (Netmarble) Rights]

1. You agree that we (Netmarble) may promote the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament that you organize and may use the results of the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament that you organize in the operation, planning, and marketing of [Paragon: The Overprime].
2. We (Netmarble) use all broadcast streaming and recordings, photos, videos, still images, and other content from the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament organized by you free of charge (including but not limited to the right to grant a sublicense) without restriction.

3. You acknowledge that we (Netmarble) have all rights, ownership, and interests (including but not limited to patents and copyrights) of [Paragon: The Overprime]. If any work derived from the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament organized by you infringes upon our intellectual property or related rights, you must immediately suspend or withdraw the work from distribution.
4. You agree to take and execute all of the following additional measures at any time upon request from us (Netmarble) while organizing and conducting the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament.
 - 4.1. You represent us (Netmarble) and guarantee that your [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament broadcast streams and recordings do not infringe or violate the rights of any person or entity, or defame any person.
 - 4.2. You must guarantee that you will not use technical attacks (bugs, hacks, etc.) before proceeding with the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament, and you must try to prevent such situations.
 - 4.3. You are aware that if you promote or represent a situation that is contrary to our (Netmarble) core values or the spirit of fairness while conducting the [Paragon: The Overprime] tournament, you may be subject to sanctions, etc. The interpretation and application of circumstances is at our (Netmarble) discretion.